CLEANmail

Cleanmail Domain Gateway

The Cleanmail Domain Gateway is the trusted platform to secure your public mail communication. It keeps you free from spam, malware and many types of attack. More than 400,000 automated signals per day ensure the highest accuracy of the filtering. We engage in security initiatives to protect your data from all current threats and risks. Your technical staff has access to central logs to quickly fix issues in routing— usually the most time-consuming issue with mail on the Internet.

What is it?

- Filters unwanted content and attacks: spam, phishing, viruses, malware, denial-of-service
- Software as a Service: no infrastructure to set up, no configuration, no "learning" of filters
- Compatible with all mail server products (e.g. MS Office 365 and Exchange on-premise, Google G Suite)
- Buffers messages from the Internet to you if your mail server is not reachable

What do you get?

- Highly efficient and accurate spam filter
- Central platform to monitor your mail flow
- Access to the highly qualified support team to help diagnose delivery issues
- Pro-active support in case of issues with mail flow

How do you interact with it?

- You don't notice the Domain Gateway, it just works
- Administrator access to review mail flow and to subscribe to quarantine notifications
- As an administrator you can allow self-signup for your users; no user management needed

Why choose Cleanmail?

- Our network of experienced partners for your support, and we can quickly bring your preferred IT provider on board
- We develop our own software to achieve the best reliability and security for you
- No call-center or online forms if you have technical or admin issues
- Partners: You can manage multiple customers with a single login

About Cleanmail

Cleanmail offers professional, secure and reliable mail communication with Swiss quality.

Cleanmail was founded in 2003 and today serves over 2,000 customers. About two thirds of these customers are managed by a network of over 100 partners located throughout Switzerland. These partners offer our services combined with their own business solutions or as an element of their IT services.

Since late 2016, Cleanmail is part of the pan-european Alinto Group, a market leader in messaging services for enterprises and service providers. Being part of this group ensures that Cleanmail continues on a path of sustained growth both in our existing markets and across Europe. Cleanmail technology powers Alinto products under the brand "Cleanmail Inside".

The excellent knowledge and vast experience of the Cleanmail team ensures that your mail communication is secure and reliable. Because your business depends on it.
